PROJECT NUMBER:

2022-1-ES01-KA220-SCH-000087951

CONTEXT

Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) plays an important role in language education, both as a feature of foreign language teaching and learning and as an element of motivation for more active learning of the contents.

AIMS

The specific aims of the project are:

- Provide primary school teachers with reliable yet accessible methodological training that can supply knowledge and experience with the CLIL so that it will be possible to create simple disciplinary input in English.
- Provide teachers with easy and effective access to CLIL base teaching tools, taking the form of CLIL based Video lessons in English focusing on Arts and Music, to be used in their everyday teaching practices.
- Promote the insertion of CLIL methodology at the primary school level by providing exemplary and motivational case studies.

TARGET GROUPS

The project is addressed to:

- Primary school teachers
- Primary school pupils
- Primary school decision makers
- CLIL experts and policymakers

PROJECT RESULTS

The main project results include:

- An online Training Course accessible from a dedicated E-learning platform which makes use of digital solutions to enhance the accessibility and usability by primary school teachers.
- A collection of video lessons on specific Arts and Music topics being taught in English by native speakers at primary level.
- A database of case studies with which the project partners will collect direct experiences of CLIL experts, Primary school teachers, Primary school decision-makers, and policymakers in the field of education, with reference to the application of CLIL in primary schools.
